Our sustainability stories from 2016

Brambles operates one of the world's largest circular supply-chain services, facilitating the share and reuse of 550 million assets amongst our customers in over 60 countries. We optimise the flow of goods through the supply chain, reducing waste and making world trade more efficient and sustainable. The more our customers share and reuse our products, the greater the efficiencies and environmental benefits of our networks.

Sharing & Reusing Creates sustainable value

Our sharing and reusing circular model decreases demand on natural resources and our network advantage reduces costs for customers and makes supply chains more sustainable. At Brambles we call this Sustainable Value and it's what we create for our stakeholders, everyday.

The Upcycled Half pallet made from 100% mixed waste such as plastic bottles.

Upcycling is the process of transforming waste materials into new products of higher value
