Sustainability Highlights 2020

This year marks an important milestone in our sustainability journey.

Five years ago, we set ourselves a series of very ambitious goals. We can now proudly say this is a success story, result of the passionate and collaborative work of thousands of employees and partners across the whole supply chain. We now have new and exciting challenges ahead of us. Our ambition for the future is to pioneer regenerative supply chains.

Recognition

Brambles continues to achieve consistently top scores in reputable investor surveys, receiving recognition as an Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) leader.

Here, we offer a snapshot of our ESG ratings for the year in review as well as other sustainability assessments relevant for our business.

ESG Road-shows

During FY20, Brambles investor engagements continued in all key regions and adapted to online sessions in the second half. This dialogue provided the business an opportunity to share our sustainability story and learn what's important for investors ranging from institutional pension funds to sustainability focused impact funds.

The key themes arising from these conversations included the importance of sustainability issues for retail customers and food producers such as waste packaging, climate change, and regulations around human rights and slavery in supply chains. We also discussed what's next for Brambles' sustainability journey including our 2025 vision and the concept of becoming a regenerative business.
